

Sarah Wyeth
Senior Director
S&P Global Ratings

Sarah is a Senior Director and Sector Lead at S&P Global Ratings. Sarah leads high-profile analytics, market engagement and thought leadership for the Retail sector in Corporate Ratings. Sarah spent eight years as an analyst in the Capital Goods sector, covering complex diversified industrial credits. As a senior analyst, Sarah co-led the criteria project to develop and clarify our approach to entities with captive finance operations.

Sarah subsequently moved to the Methodologies group as a Criteria Officer where Sarah developed and approved various criteria projects, including methodologies for issue ratings and the real estate sector. Sarah also held the role of Criteria Validation Officer, where she reviewed and validated criteria of multiple asset classes, meeting S&P Global Ratings' regulatory requirements while broadening her analytical knowledge. Sarah also contributed to the development of the analytical approach to issuers in the China domestic ratings market for S&P Global (China) Ratings.

Sarah holds a Master of Business Administration from Cornell University, The Johnson School. Sarah also holds a Master of Arts in International Affairs from George Washington University and a Bachelor of Arts in Spanish from the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign.
