

Monica Reid, Kestrel

At Kestrel, we celebrate Juneteenth. This federal holiday reminds us to honor Black and African American histories, celebrate our nation's progress toward racial equity, and catalyze positive change within historically disinvested Black and African American communities. With these reminders, we reinforce our dedication to elevating impactful stories of racial equity advancement in the US municipal bond market across all sectors and in the structured finance space.

