

STRUCTURED FINANCE ASSOCIATION MEMBERSHIP

Empowering Voices, Shaping the Industry

Helping consumers and businesses prosper.

The 370+ members of the Structured Finance Association (SFA) collectively influence policy and lead discussions on the greatest opportunities and challenges in the structured finance industry. By speaking with one voice to policymakers, the media, and the market, SFA members amplify their impact on a scale that would be unfeasible alone. Before taking advocacy positions, our unique governance structure requires consensus - not just plurality - among all members. Each SFA member has an equal voice and vote. This gives every one of our members a seat at the table. Our diversity is our strength, as it builds healthy tension in arriving at our policy positions. This allows us to analyze the potential impacts of regulatory proposals on all stakeholders within our markets before reaching a holistic industry view.

We invite you to join SFA so we can, together, create enduring solutions that benefit all.

SFA hosts the world's largest capital markets conference, featuring 10,000 industry participants. This is in addition to frequent roundtables, webinars and symposiums that we hold throughout the year to address pressing issues and important subjects in an expedient manner.

SFVegas Conference

SFVegas, the largest annual capital markets conference in the world, features a robust agenda on market-relevant topics and extensive networking opportunities, drawing over 10,000 industry professionals including investors, issuers, financial intermediaries, and regulators. Past keynote speakers include Janet Yellen, Theresa May, Michael Lewis, and Venus Williams.

SFCanada Conference

This annual event serves as the premiere annual industry meeting for Canadian structured finance market constituents by providing a forum for the market to connect and address emerging issues of the day.

Symposiums, Roundtables & Webinars

The Structured Finance Association hosts frequent member-driven, issue-specific symposiums, roundtables, and webinars. This content is delivered both in-person and virtually.
